What's the issue?

As the business expanded, the workload of the accounting department increased. As a result, the employees who had been in charge of accounting work had to deal with customers, and there was a shortage of personnel for accounting and settlement work. As a result, monthly settlement of accounts has been delayed, making it difficult to grasp profits and losses in a timely manner.

We propose a set of settlements and bookkeeping work. By outsourcing accounting work, employees were able to focus on their core business. In addition, we proposed the introduction of an expense reimbursement system to reduce the burden of expense reimbursement for employees. By importing expense journals directly from the expense reimbursement system into the accounting software, it also led to the operational efficiency of the accounting department.

What's the issue?

When establishing a corporation in Thailand, in addition to registering the incorporation, it is necessary to comply with various procedures such as VAT registration, bank account opening, social insurance registration, visas, work permits, etc., as well as local capital and labor regulations. As a result, complying with capital regulations that require a majority of local capital has become a thorny hurdle for Japan companies.

Within the Tsuji & Hongo Group in Thailand, Hongo Tsuji Accounting (HTA), which is in charge of accounting and taxation. Hongo Tsuji Thailand (HTT), which is in charge of capital regulations and investment consulting. Toyo Business Service (local partner) is in charge of registration from establishment. The customer was able to complete everything with a single point of contact. Furthermore, as necessary, we followed up with the Japan side and provided full support, including investment.
